

Business is built on relationships.
A great relationship is a significant commercial asset.
How healthy do you think your client relationships are?

Much like our personal relationships, our business interactions need to be nurtured. Often, when we're busy, it's easy to take our relationships for granted. This can create long-term tensions if issues are not openly resolved in a timely fashion.

The Relationship Audits® team understand this.

Using Relationship Audit's award-winning Relationship RADAR® survey tool, or face-to-face interviews, the team consults with agencies and their clients to deliver actionable relationship intelligence.

When you understand why a relationship is struggling, it's possible to fix it, and build a more valuable and productive one that'll last into the future.

We believe these agency/client relationship insights are invaluable so, MISSION Hubs has teamed up with Relationship Audits® to exclusively offer our Affiliate and Partner agencies a FREE 30-minute consultation session.

This FREE 30-minute session includes:

- Consultation with one of the two founders of Relationship Audits®.
- Benefiting from their experience with hundreds of agencies globally on what needs to be done to address issues and how to capitalize on opportunities to grow the business.

To take advantage of this amazing offer, please email psquirrell@themission.co.uk and we'll connect you with Simon Rhind-Tutt and the team at Relationship Audits®.
